CFTC Docket No. 15 - 12

ORDER INSTITUTING PROCEEDINGS PURSUANT TO SECTIONS 6(c) AND 6(d) OF THE COMMODITY EXCHANGE ACT, MAKING
FINDINGS AND IMPOSING REMEDIAL SANCTIONS

I.

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission (“Commission”) has reason to believe that from in or about October 2012 to September 25, 2014 (the “Relevant Period”), Summit Energy Services, Inc. (“Summit Energy” or “Respondent”) violated Section 4m(1) of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended (the “Act”). Therefore, the Commission deems it appropriate and in the public interest that public administrative proceedings be, and hereby are, instituted to determine whether Respondent engaged in the violations set forth herein and to determine whether any order should be issued imposing remedial sanctions.

II.

In anticipation of the institution of an administrative proceeding, Respondent has submitted an Offer of Settlement (“Offer”), which the Commission has determined to accept. Without admitting or denying any of the findings or conclusions herein, Respondent consents to the entry of this Order Instituting Proceedings Pursuant to Sections 6(c) and 6(d) of the Commodity Exchange Act, as Amended, Making Findings and Imposing Remedial Sanctions (“Order”) and acknowledges service of this Order.¹

¹ Respondent consents to the entry of this Order and to the use of these findings in this proceeding and in any other proceeding brought by the Commission or to which the Commission is a party; provided, however, that Respondent does not consent to the use of the Offer, or the findings or conclusions in this Order consented to in the Offer, as the sole basis for any other proceeding brought by the Commission, other than in a proceeding in bankruptcy or to enforce the terms of this Order. Nor does Respondent consent to the use of the Offer or this Order, or the findings or conclusions in this Order consented to in the Offer, by any other party in any other proceeding.

III.

The Commission finds the following:

A. SUMMARY

During the Relevant Period, Summit Energy acted as an unregistered Commodity Trading Advisor (“CTA”) by, for compensation or profit, engaging in the business of advising more than fifteen clients as to the value of or the advisability of trading in natural gas swaps and natural gas commodity futures contracts and held itself out generally to the public as a CTA.

B. RESPONDENT

Respondent Summit Energy Services, Inc. is a Delaware corporation based in Louisville, Kentucky. During the Relevant Period, Summit Energy was not registered with the Commission in any capacity.²

C. FACTS

During the Relevant Period, Summit Energy, using the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce, engaged in the business of advising its clients as to the value of or the advisability of trading in over-the-counter (“OTC”) natural gas swaps and natural gas commodity futures, for compensation or profit, without being registered. Most of Summit Energy’s clients were commercial entities that purchase physical natural gas and electricity as part of their energy needs. Summit Energy provided its clients with advice concerning physical natural gas and electricity transactions. Throughout the Relevant Period, more than 15 clients received advice from Summit Energy as to the value of or the advisability of trading in natural gas OTC swaps and futures for hedging purposes. With respect to some of its clients, Summit Energy also acted as a broker in OTC natural gas swaps trades.

Through its website and public brochures, Summit Energy publicly offered prospective clients “risk management” services which included advising its clients as to the value of or the advisability of trading in natural gas swaps and futures. Summit Energy’s commodity trading advice was part of, and not solely incidental to, its business.

IV.

LEGAL DISCUSSION

Section 1a(12)(i) of the Act defines a CTA as any person who, for compensation or profit, engages in the business of advising others, either directly or through publications, writings, or electronic media, as to the value of or advisability of trading in, inter alia, futures or swaps. Pursuant to Section 1a(38) of the Act, the term “person” imports the plural or singular, and includes individuals, associations, partnerships, corporations, and trusts. Section 4m(1) of the Act requires a person who is acting as a CTA and makes use of the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce in connection with the person's business as such CTA to register with the Commission unless the person provides such commodity trading advice to fewer than fifteen persons in the preceding twelve months and does not hold itself out generally to the public as a CTA.

During the Relevant Period Summit Energy acted as a CTA by engaging, for compensation or profit, in the business of advising its clients as to the value of or the advisability of trading in OTC natural gas swaps and futures. In addition, Summit Energy held itself out publicly as a CTA by offering to others its risk management services, including commodity trading advice concerning natural gas futures and OTC swaps, through its website and sales brochures. In addition, Summit Energy was not exempt from registration as a CTA under any provision of the Act or Commission Regulations.

V.
